Whups, we did it again!

As if the fine Citizens of Regina were not pissed off enough the first time by giving Rider season ticket holders First Dibbs on Rolling Stones tickets...they are dumb enough to repeat the same mistake a second time by offering the same first dibbs on the second show!

Perhaps is just me, but....not only does membership have its priviledges...it could also piss off anyone who really wanted to go to the show, but now has to pay scalpers fees to Rider season ticket holders who snap up all the good seats by jumping the que! I won't be buying season tickets, you can keep losing without me!
